

PUBLIC OFFER TO ENTER INTO AN AGREEMENT ON RENDERING SERVICES TO ATTRACT CUSTOMERS

Twenty-fifth of January two thousand twenty four

The Administration, publishing or sending this offer offers each User, who has agreed with the conditions set forth herein in the manner specified in the offer, to enter into a contract for the rendering of services (hereinafter - Agreement or Contract).

The Agreement is entered into in a simplified manner by accepting this offer by expressing consent through the technical means of the Service and clicking the button "I agree with the offer".

1. TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

1.1. The Parties have agreed that the following terms and definitions shall have the following meaning for the purposes of this Agreement:

«Administration», «Licensor» – "PAIRTRADINGPRO" LLC (OGRNIP 1256600006838, TIN 6686165607, address: 7 Visherskii Lane, Ekaterinburg, Sverdlovsk Region, Russia, 620135), duly registered in accordance with the laws of the Russian Federation, being the right holder of exclusive rights to the Website and Service.

«User», «Executor» – any natural person who has reached the age allowed under the applicable law to accept this User Agreement, has the appropriate authority, has free access to the Internet, including the possibility of using the Site, and has registered on the Website.

«Client» - potential users of the Service who intend to purchase or have purchased services offered by the Administration.

«Website» - Internet resource located on the Internet, used by Users, in particular, to obtain the opportunity to use the Service, access to which is temporarily provided by the Administration to Users at the following address <https://pairtrading.pro/>. The Website is an information resource, a set of information, which is accessed by means of traditional and publicly available Internet browser (Internet Explorer, Firefox, Safari, Opera, Flock, Maxthon, Google Chrome and other various versions) and otherwise using a unified index of the location of the information resource, consisting of letters, digits and other signs, allowing to uniquely determine its location in the Internet, including the mobile version of the Site, mobile application, intranet and ftp-server, as well as its subdomains and versions of other hardware platforms.

The Website is a complex object, the development of which is arranged by the Administration. It includes software, databases, software codes, know-how, algorithms, design elements, fonts, logos, as well as text, graphic and other materials, information, texts, graphic elements, images, photo, audio and video materials and other results of intellectual activity. Exclusive rights to the Website and any of its components belong to the Administration as a right holder or licensee on the basis of law, contract or other transaction.

«Service», «Software» – software named "PairTrading.Pro", the access to the use of which is provided by the User through the Website. The Software includes computer programs, mobile applications, websites, as well as their components and individual elements, including, but not limited to: databases, software codes, underlying know-how, algorithms, design elements, fonts, logos, as well as text, graphics and other materials, documentation thereof, inventions, processes, methods, ideas, written materials, other results of intellectual activity. Exclusive rights to the Software and any of its components belong to the Administration as a right holder or licensee under the law, contract or other transaction.

«Offer» - this document, a public offer of the Administration, addressed to Users, to enter into a Contract with it on the terms and conditions contained in the Offer.

«Accept» - full and unconditional acceptance of the terms of the Offer by the User by expressing consent through technical means of the Website and clicking the button "I agree with the Offer".

«Remuneration» - User's remuneration for attracting customers for the purpose of purchasing a License through a Referral Link.

«License» - granting the User the right to use the Software in accordance with the terms and conditions stipulated herein, with the Administration retaining the right to grant licenses to other persons (non-exclusive license) throughout the world during the License Term without the right to sub-license.

«Referral link» – a unique referral hyperlink formed specifically for the User, the click on which allows the Customer to purchase access to the Software and/or other services of the Administration on the User's recommendation.

«Services» - User's services of attracting clients for the purpose of purchasing the License, rendered remotely for the Administration.

«Billing month» – a calendar month during which the User was charged remuneration for the rendered services in accordance with the procedure of such charging established herein. Upon entering into or termination of this Agreement, the actual number of days of rendering services in the current month shall be taken as the billing month.

«Balance» – a personal account on which the Customer accounts for the amount of funds received by the Contractor for rendering the Services on attraction of Clients.

«Tariff», «Tariff plan» - the set of modules, technical and functional parameters of the Software offered by the Administration, the term of the License, and the corresponding License Fee. The Fee Schedule is set by the Administration and is not subject to change, except for changes made by the Licensor. The Fees are published on the Website at the following link: <https://pairtrading.pro/tariffs>

«Simple electronic signature» – an electronic signature which, through the use of codes, passwords or other means, confirms the fact of formation of an electronic signature by a certain person in accordance with this Agreement.

«Messenger» – information system and/or software (mobile application, web service, web application, etc.), which are designed and/or used to receive, transmit, deliver and/or process electronic messages from Internet users (e.g. Skype, WhatsApp, Viber, etc.).

«Device» – a PC, mobile device or virtual machine running an operating system compatible with the Website with a suitable web browser installed.

«Checksum» – some value (sequence of symbols) calculated from a set of data by applying a certain algorithm, used under this Agreement to verify the integrity (authenticity) of electronic files during their transmission or storage. For the purposes hereof, the calculation and verification of Checksums shall be performed by applying the MD5 and SHA256 algorithms.

«Applicable law» – the legislation of the country in which the Administration is registered or of which it is a resident. In some cases, the applicable law may mean the law of the country in which the User resides or of which he is a resident, if such legislation establishes the priority of its rules over the rules of this policy.

1.2. All other terms and definitions appearing in the text thereof shall be interpreted by the Parties in accordance with applicable law, the current recommendations (RFC) of international Internet standardization bodies and customary rules of interpretation of the relevant terms in the Internet.

1.3. Terms and definitions used herein may be used both in the singular and plural depending on the context, the spelling of terms may be used both with a capital letter and with an uppercase letter.

1.4. The titles of the headings (articles), as well as the structure of this Agreement are intended solely for convenience of use of the Agreement text and have no literal legal meaning.

2. SUBJECT OF THE AGREEMENT

2.1. In accordance herewith, the Contractor shall render services to the Customer to attract Clients to purchase the License, and the Customer shall pay for such services in accordance with the procedure established herein.

2.2. Services hereunder may be rendered by the Contractor via the Internet with the use of information technologies.

2.3. Services hereunder, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties additionally, shall be rendered by the Contractor during the term of validity hereof.

2.4. Requests and approvals of the Parties may be sent to each other as agreed between the participants of electronic interaction.

2.5. Within the framework hereof, the Parties have agreed to understand the quality of services as compliance of services with the requirements usually imposed to the services of the corresponding type.

2.6. The Parties undertake to hold joint discussions of all issues related to the Contractor's provision of services hereunder. In the event that in the course of discussions no consensus is reached, the Parties shall consider the decision made by the Customer unilaterally as final and binding for fulfillment.

2.7. In the process of rendering services, the Contractor shall be guided by this Agreement, however, in case the Contractor has any issues regarding the requirements for services or reveals inaccuracies and ambiguities in them, the Contractor shall request the necessary clarifications from the Customer with suspension of rendering services for the period of receiving clarifications.

2.8. When rendering services, the Contractor shall not be entitled to engage third parties (co-executors, sub-executors) without the Customer's consent. In this case, if such third parties are involved in the provision of services, the Contractor shall be liable for their actions and results of services as for its own.

3. EXECUTION OF THE AGREEMENT

3.1. The Agreement shall be deemed executed at the moment when the User has accepted this Offer by clicking the "I agree with the Offer" button.

4. PROCEDURE FOR INTERACTION BETWEEN THE CONTRACTOR AND THE CUSTOMER

- 4.1. The Contractor shall engage Customers to purchase the License during the validity period of this Agreement
- 4.2. The Contractor shall independently search for Clients for the Customer at its own expense.
- 4.3. The Customer shall bear advertising and other marketing or related expenses aimed at finding and attracting Clients independently and at its own expense. The Contractor may, subject to the Customer's approval and on the basis of advertising and marketing materials provided by the Customer, carry out independent advertising and marketing activities at its own expense.
- 4.4. If the Contractor identifies a Client willing to use the License, the Contractor provides such Client with a referral link for access to the Website for the purpose of self-registration and purchase of the License.
- 4.5. In case the Client, attracted by the Contractor, has purchased the License, the record about it is fixed by the Customer's automated software, and such Client is preliminary considered to be attracted by the Contractor. In any case, the Contractor shall inform the Customer about the relevant engagement by sending a notification to the following e-mail address: support@pairtrading.pro
- 4.6. The Contractor shall be awarded the corresponding remuneration in the amount specified herein only if the Client has purchased the License.
- 4.7. In case of non-purchase of the License by the Client referred by the Contractor, such Client is not considered to be attracted by the Contractor. Remuneration for such Client is not charged.
- 4.8. Accounting of the number of Clients attracted by the Contractor is made in an automated manner using the Customer's automated software tools. The Parties have agreed that the data collected by such means are reliable until proven otherwise.
- 4.9. As a general rule, drawing up an act on rendering services hereunder is not required and the services shall be considered rendered, if the Contractor has not received any remarks, comments, proposals with regard to the services rendered for the billing month, the data on which are accounted by the automated method, upon expiration of 5 (five) business days of the month following the billing month.

5. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE CUSTOMER

- 5.1. The Customer shall provide the Contractor with information about the accounting of the number of Clients attracted by the Contractor, which is made in an automated manner with the help of the Customer's automated software tools.
- 5.2. The Customer shall pay advertising and other marketing or related expenses, aimed at search and attraction of Clients, and shall carry out advertising and other marketing activities independently of the Contractor.
- 5.3. The Customer shall provide the Contractor with other documents, data, information necessary for the proper execution hereof, including information constituting a trade secret or other confidential information. In this case, if the information containing the results of intellectual activity of third parties is provided, the Customer guarantees the presence of permissions from the right holders or agreements, executed in the manner prescribed by law, for the use of such results in the provision of services.
- 5.4. The Customer shall provide electronic copies of documents at the request of the Contractor to confirm its legal capacity, including those certified by the electronic signature of an authorized person.
- 5.5. The Customer shall pay for the Contractor's services in the amount, order and on the terms and conditions established hereby.
- 5.6. The Customer shall not create conditions that may complicate the fulfillment of obligations hereunder by the Contractor (including not to take actions related to possible transfer of the Contractor's staff, directly involved in the process of fulfillment of the Contractor's obligations hereunder, to work for the Customer).
- 5.7. The Customer shall be entitled to demand the Contractor to submit a free-form progress report verbally, by telephone, in person or by other means not more often than once per reporting month.
- 5.8. The Customer shall be entitled to refuse to fulfill the Agreement and terminate it unilaterally out of court on condition of payment to the Contractor of the expenses actually incurred by him. The amount of such expenses may not exceed 1 (one) percent of the amount of remuneration paid to the Contractor for the settlement month preceding the refusal.

6. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE CONTRACTOR

- 6.1. The Contractor shall provide services hereunder in due time with appropriate quality and in accordance with the norms of the applicable legislation. At the same time, the Contractor shall fulfill any Client's instructions regarding the provision of services, including those that are contrary to the requirements hereof, informing the Client, if necessary, of possible adverse consequences of such instructions.
- 6.2. The Contractor shall explain to the Customer the order and meaning of the actions performed by the Contractor for the purpose of fulfillment of obligations hereunder.

6.3. The Contractor shall act in the interests of the Customer, be guided by the principle of expediency of certain actions and, in the absence of other instructions, take into account the goal of minimizing the Customer's expenses when performing the Agreement.

6.4. At the Customer's request, the Contractor shall submit free-form reports on the progress of rendering services hereunder verbally, by telephone, in person or by other means not more often than once per reporting month.

6.5. The Contractor shall be entitled to demand from the Customer the provision of documents, data, information necessary for the proper fulfillment of this Agreement, including information constituting a trade secret or other confidential information.

6.6. The Contractor shall be entitled to suspend rendering of services hereunder for the period of non-provision by the Customer of documents, data and information required by the Contractor for proper fulfillment hereof in accordance with this Agreement. The Contractor shall resume rendering services after the Customer provides all documents, data and information. The term of rendering services, established by this Agreement, shall be extended commensurately with the time during which the Customer did not have the necessary documents, data, information.

6.7. The Contractor shall be entitled to provide information about the Customer upon request of registration institutions, judicial and/or law enforcement authorities.

6.8. The Contractor shall be entitled to refuse to fulfill the obligations hereunder and terminate the Agreement unilaterally out of court, provided that the Customer is fully reimbursed for the losses incurred as a result of this.

7. REMUNERATION. PAYMENT PROCEDURE

7.1. Provision of services by the Contractor hereunder shall be performed on a reimbursable basis, the procedure for calculating remuneration is described on the Website.

7.2. The remuneration is paid to the Contractor on the Balance, then the Contractor can transfer to your current account using payment methods available on the website.

7.3. Calculation of the amount of the Contractor's remuneration for the billing month is made by the Customer on the basis of the accounting data made in an automated manner.

7.4. The moment of fulfillment of the Customer's payment obligation hereunder shall be the moment of crediting the funds to the Balance.

7.5. The Customer is entitled to entrust the fulfillment of payment obligations to another person. Unless otherwise agreed additionally, the person offering payment for the Customer shall be a person authorized by the Customer.

8. LIABILITY OF THE PARTIES

8.1. The Party that fails to fulfill or improperly fulfills its obligations hereunder shall compensate the other Party for the losses caused by such failure.

8.2. The Parties shall not be liable for consequences related to provision by the other Party of documents that do not correspond to reality.

8.3. The User shall be responsible for the accuracy of the documents submitted for crediting and debiting of funds. In case the Administration suffers damage due to unreliable documents, such damage shall be compensated by the User in full.

8.4. In other cases, for failure to fulfill or improper fulfillment of obligations hereunder, the Parties shall be liable in accordance with the applicable legislation

9. FORCE-MAJEURE

9.1. The Party shall be exempted from liability for partial or full non-performance of obligations hereunder if it proves that proper performance was impossible due to force majeure, i.e. extraordinary, unforeseeable and unavoidable circumstances that arose during the performance of obligations hereunder, which could not have been reasonably expected at its execution, or avoided or overcome, as well as beyond the control of the Parties hereto.

9.2. Force majeure circumstances include, inter alia: hostilities (declared or actual war), civil unrest, mass diseases (epidemics, pandemics, etc.), strikes, blockades, natural disasters (earthquake, flood, hurricane, etc.), fire, terrorist acts, sabotage, transportation restrictions, governmental prohibitive measures, prohibition of trade transactions, including with certain countries, due to international sanctions, as well as disconnection of data centers located in the territory of the country where the Administration is located from the global Internet and blocking of servers or connections by supervisory authorities.

9.3. The force majeure circumstances do not include, in particular, entrepreneurial risks such as breach of obligations on the part of the debtor's counterparties, the debtor's lack of necessary funds, as well as financial and economic crisis, changes in the exchange rate, devaluation of the national currency, criminal actions of unidentified persons.

9.4. In the event of force majeure circumstances specified in this Article, each Party shall without delay notify the other Party of them in writing, including by sending an e-mail or instant messenger message. The notice shall contain data on the nature of the circumstances, as well as official documents confirming the existence of these circumstances and, if possible, providing an assessment of their impact on the possibility of fulfillment by the Party of its obligations hereunder.

9.5. If a Party fails to send or untimely sends the notice provided for in this Article, it shall compensate the other Party for the losses incurred.

9.6. In cases of force majeure circumstances envisaged by this Article, the deadline for the fulfillment of the Party's obligations hereunder shall be postponed commensurately with the time during which these circumstances and their consequences are in force, if such change of deadlines is possible and/or appropriate.

9.7. In the event that it is impossible and/or inexpedient to change the terms of fulfillment of obligations hereunder by the Party, or the occurrence of force majeure circumstances and their consequences continue to exist for more than 2 (two) months, the Party shall be entitled to refuse to fulfill this Agreement with reference to the impossibility of fulfillment of obligations hereunder due to the occurrence of force majeure circumstances, if additional negotiations to identify acceptable alternative ways of fulfillment of this Agreement are not carried out within a reasonable period of time. The initiating Party shall notify the other Party of its refusal to fulfill its obligations hereunder within a reasonable period of time.

9.8. If a Party refuses to fulfill this Agreement referring to the impossibility of its fulfillment due to force majeure circumstances, this Agreement shall terminate upon expiration of 30 (thirty) calendar days from the date of receipt of the notice by the other Party.

10. CONFIDENTIALITY

10.1. The Parties shall keep confidentiality of all information transmitted to each other through both protected and unprotected communication channels, regardless of the presence or absence of markings indicating the status of confidentiality of the transmitted information, except for cases when such disclosure occurred due to reasons beyond the control of the Parties, as well as except for cases stipulated by the current legislation.

10.2. Disclosure of confidential information hereunder shall mean an act or omission of one of the Parties to the Agreement, as a result of which confidential information becomes known to third parties without the consent of its holder. In this case, the manner of disclosure of confidential information to third parties (verbal, written, using technical means, etc.) shall be irrelevant.

10.3. Provision of confidential information at the lawful request of law enforcement and other authorized state bodies and officials in cases and in the manner stipulated by applicable law shall not constitute a breach of confidentiality.

10.4. In the event of disclosure of confidential information to the said bodies and/or persons, the Party that disclosed it shall notify in writing the owner of the confidential information of the fact of its provision, its content and the body to which it was provided, no later than 2 (two) business days from the date of disclosure.

10.5. Obligations relating to compliance with the terms of confidentiality shall be valid for an unlimited period, including after the termination of this Agreement for any reason.

11. DISPUTE RESOLUTION AND SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS

11.1. All disputes and claims shall be regulated on the basis of the provisions hereof, and in case of failure to settle them - in accordance with the procedure established by the current legislation.

11.2. Any questions, comments and other correspondence shall be sent by the Parties to each other by e-mail to the respective e-mail address.

11.3. Any claims arising in connection herewith shall be forwarded by the Parties to each other by sending an electronic message to the respective e-mail address. The Party receiving the claim shall consider this claim within 10 (ten) business days, if necessary sending a letter stating its position to the e-mail address specified in the claim. In this case, claims of the Party that cannot be identified on the basis of the data provided to it (including anonymous claims) shall not be considered. If the claim cannot be resolved through negotiations, the dispute shall be resolved in court in accordance with this Agreement and applicable legislation.

11.4. The Parties agree that in the event of impossibility to resolve disputes arising in connection with this Agreement by negotiation, such disputes, upon expiration of the above mentioned time limit for consideration of the claim, shall be resolved by the Parties in court at the location of the Administration in accordance with the applicable legislation.

12. TERM OF THE AGREEMENT AND ITS TERMINATION

- 12.1. This Agreement shall be entered into between the Parties for the period until the Parties fulfill their obligations in full.
- 12.2. Termination of this Agreement shall be allowed by agreement of the Parties, by court decision, in case of unilateral refusal of the Party to this Agreement from its fulfillment in accordance with the applicable legislation.

13. AGREEMENT BETWEEN PARTICIPANTS OF ELECTRONIC INTERACTION

13.1. The rules set out in this section are an agreement between the Parties hereto, as participants (parties) of electronic interaction, which establishes cases where electronic documents (including primary accounting documents) signed with a simple electronic signature are recognized as equivalent to paper documents signed with a handwritten signature.

13.2. From the moment of entering into this Agreement, the Parties may exchange any electronic documents and electronic messages, as well as, respectively, enter into contracts, agreements, transactions and unilateral actions between themselves, signing them with a simple electronic signature in accordance with the procedure established by this section. In particular, it becomes available for the Parties to sign such documents as consent to personal data processing, withdrawal of consent to personal data processing, consent to receive promotional mailings, withdrawal of consent to receive promotional mailings and other documents with a simple electronic signature.

13.3. Information in the form of an electronic document or electronic message sent by one of the Parties to the other Party shall be legally effective only if it is either sent to the corresponding e-mail address of the receiving Party from the e-mail address of the sending Party specified in this Agreement or during Registration on the Website, or it is sent to the other Party via collaboration software, or it is sent to the other Party via messenger.

13.4. The Parties agreed to consider the existence of relevant records in the information systems of e-mail operators, messengers, collaboration software or the Website as evidence of the fact of sending or receiving information. As evidence of such records, the Parties have agreed to consider as reliable also screenshots from devices from which it is possible to access such information systems.

13.5. When transmitting information in the form of electronic files, a Checksum (Hash Sum) value may be used to confirm their authenticity (immutability).

13.6. For the purposes hereof and any other transaction between the Parties, information in electronic form sent by one Party from its e-mail address to the e-mail address of the other Party shall be deemed to be signed with a simple electronic signature in the form of an e-mail address (login) contained in the e-mail message itself, a simple electronic signature key (password) applied in accordance with the rules established by the e-mail service provider and the e-mail message containing information indicating the Party from which it is sent..

13.7. For the purposes hereof and any other transaction between the Parties, information in electronic form sent by one Party to the other Party by means of a messenger is considered to be signed with a simple electronic signature in the form of the sending Party's identifier in the messenger, which is contained in the electronic message itself, the simple electronic signature key (password) is applied in accordance with the rules established by the messenger operator and the electronic message contains information indicating the Party on whose behalf the message was sent..

All documents, notices and communications sent by the Parties to each other in accordance with this Section shall be recognized as official correspondence both under this Agreement and any other transaction between the Parties, and shall have the force of a legally significant written document. Messages originating from the respective e-mail address, messenger ID or phone number, from the account of the Collaboration Software shall be deemed to be messages originating from the respective Party hereto. Scanned copies of documents signed by the Parties (contract, additional agreements, annexes, acts, notifications, claims and other documents) are equal to paper documents with personal signatures of the Parties.

13.10. Each Party shall keep confidentiality of the simple electronic signature key in the form of login and password from the information system of the operator of e-mail services, messenger, software for joint work. In case of unauthorized access to the specified login and password, their loss or disclosure to third parties, the Party shall immediately notify the other Party and take measures to restore access and/or replace the login and password.

13.11. This Agreement, acts, notices, claims, other documents and electronic messages sent by the Parties to each other may contain links to information resources on the Internet (websites, website pages, etc.). A Party shall notify the other Party of the impossibility to follow the link received from it, occurrence of an error, lack of necessary information or its inconsistency with the previously agreed information when following the link received within 3 (three) days from the date of receipt of the link, otherwise, the Party that sent the link shall be entitled to consider that the other Party has accessed the information provided by the Party that sent the link after following such link and has no objections to that fact.

14. Final provisions

14.1. Documents, notifications and communications hereunder, including those related to its amendment or termination, may be sent either in writing in the form of a paper document or in electronic form in accordance with the agreement between the participants of electronic interaction. In particular, by sending an electronic message to the respective e-mail address, by sending an electronic message via messenger or by exchanging messages via collaboration software.

14.2. Any document, notice or communication in writing, if sent in the form of a paper document, shall be legally effective only if sent by one of the Parties to the other Party to the address specified in this Agreement. The document, notice or communication may be delivered personally or sent by registered mail and shall be deemed received:

- when delivered in person - on the date of delivery;
- when sent by registered mail - on the date specified in the receipt confirming delivery of the respective mail by a communication organization.

14.3. Assignment of rights (claims) hereunder shall be made upon written agreement of the Parties, except for cases of transfer of rights (claims) by virtue of law.

14.4. In case of bankruptcy, reorganization, legal succession, change of address, current account, other details affecting the proper performance of the Agreement, the Parties shall notify each other within five days from the moment of occurrence of such circumstances. No additional agreement hereto is required to be entered into between the Parties.

14.5. Any amendments and additions hereto shall be valid when executed in the form of additional agreements, including those executed by means of exchange of electronic messages signed with a simple electronic signature in accordance with the agreement between the parties to the electronic interaction, as well as in the format of the Offer and Acceptance, if so provided for by the Agreement, and being an integral part hereof.

14.6. The legislation to be applied to this Agreement shall be the applicable legislation.

14.7. The date of signing and execution of this Agreement shall be the date of Acceptance of the Offer by the Contractor. The place of signing and execution of this Agreement is the place indicated in the upper left corner of the first page hereof.
